This guarantee covers congenital health issues that may arise, ensuring peace of mind for you and the well-being of your beloved Australian Shepherd. However, it's essential to note that this guarantee does not extend to circumstances beyond congenital health, such as accidental death, neglect, abuse, or injuries incurred while under your care. Additionally, it does not cover allergic reactions to medications, common treatable conditions like parasites, or illnesses contracted post-purchase.

To qualify for this guarantee, you must adhere to the following terms:

1. Maintain your Australian Shepherd's diet exclusively with Life's Abundance products purchased through our authorized channel.
2. Provide written documentation from a licensed veterinarian diagnosing a life-threatening congenital defect or disease.
3. Under certain circumstances, you may be required to have your puppy re-examined at a reputable animal hospital, at your expense, to confirm the diagnosis.
4. Any veterinary expenses incurred after the puppy leaves Creekside Aussies' possession are the responsibility of the buyer.
5. In the unfortunate event of a life-threatening genetic defect, the puppy must be returned to Creekside Aussies at the buyer's expense, or proof of death with a necropsy report provided.
6. Regular veterinary care, including deworming, vaccinations, and other preventive measures, must be documented to validate the guarantee.

Should a qualifying congenital defect be identified within the first five years of your puppy's life, we will endeavor to provide a replacement puppy of similar color and sex, subject to availability, within one year of receiving proof of the defect.
